

LETTER FROM DR. TEEL

IN CHARGE OF HIS THIRD PRISON CAMP OF OVER 4000 AT MESERBURG, GERMANY

The following letter from Dr. A. W. Teel has just been received by Harry Francy and knowing that it will be of great interest to his many friends here, he kindly permits the Evenings News to publish it:

Berlin, Germany, June 10, '19.

A. P. O. 946, A. E. F.

Dear Harry:—

Your letter dated May 3d has been received and I was glad to hear from you and to know that you had such fine prospects of getting home soon.

I am now at Meserburg, one mile from Halle, the home of the Spartacist, which I visited today. The country between Meserburg and there looks fine. Rye (called corn), potatoes and various garden products seem to be the principal crops. There are far more women and oxen at work in the fields than men. I counted 20 women today, all lined up in a row hoeing potatoes and as far as the eye could reach they could be seen busy at the various kinds of farm work. They are usually barefooted with a cloth tied over their heads. It is not unusual to see them unloading large wagon loads of coal or carrying various loads in large baskets strapped to their backs. A few days ago I saw a woman with a pig in her basket. Kindly tell any of the fair sex about Glendale or any of the bank force that if they would like to quit their job, to let me know for I might be able to secure them some light farm work over here.

Enclosed find postal card picture of a building destroyed by the Spartacists in Berlin also some views of Meserburg and Halle.

I have just finished examining over 4000 prisoners, here. Have over 300 cases to treat. Quite a large number of these will have to be operated on. By the last of the week I hope to have a hospital established. We are sending a lot of T. B.'s to Switzerland.

This will make the third prison camp of over 4000 prisoners for me. I hope when I get through here I will be sent home.

Give my very kindest personal regards to every one in the bank. Hoping you are enjoying the best of health and at home I remain, as ever, Your friend,

A. W. TEEL.

HUMAN SOLIDARITY

MRS. ELLIS, MISSIONARY TO CHINA, SHOWS COMMON PROBLEMS OF ORIENT, OCCIDENT

The Sunday evening service in the Congregational Church was in charge of the Woman's Missionary Society, which, as explained by the president, Mrs. C. N. Van Dyke, who introduced the speaker, was glad to share with the congregation the fine message brought by Mrs. E. W. Ellis, who has been for fifteen years in the North China field, instead of keeping it for an afternoon meeting of the society.

Mrs. Ellis told something of the province of Shantung where the hospital in which she is interested is located, a province that is a political storm center now because the peace treaty has given it to Japan in opposition to the wishes of China. The province, she said, is about the size of the State of Iowa, and has a population of thirty millions as compared with three millions in Iowa. She did not go into the politics nor into the manners and customs of the people which she sensibly remarked can be learned from any good book on China, but instead she talked of the spiritual development of the Chinese and her own spiritual victories as a result of her life there and contact with them. She said in part: "We have had to fight the same battles you have been fighting. One of the first truths that came to us was the fact that the task before us was the common task that one finds all around the world. The problems of the missionaries in all lands, barring the differences in the queer names of their environments, are much the same, and on coming home I find you are up against the same things. The work of salvation—of leading people to Christ, is pretty much the same. Chinese sinners do not want the gospel any more than American sinners want it. They find the gospel interferes with their doing as they please, with carrying on a great many of their old practices and sometimes with their business, just as it interferes over here. That brings the world together as it led me to

A GREAT DAY

ALL THE SERVICES AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH VERY HELPFUL

Sunday, July 27th, was full of good things to all who attended Central Christian Church, corner Louise and Colorado. The Bible School hour was well spent in studying the graded and uniform lessons and the service of worship following was most helpful. Rev. A. W. Higby, pastor of the Broadway Christian Church, was the speaker, a substitute occupying his pulpit. His theme was "The Holy Spirit" and he made a searching analysis of this vital subject. He refuted the assertion made sometimes that the Christian Church denies the trinity, stating that the very fact that every convert is baptized into the name of Father, Son and Holy Spirit proves the error of the claim. He illustrated the three-fold nature of the Supreme Being by pointing out that water, a liquid, by freezing, becomes a solid and by application of heat becomes steam, yet it still retains the same identity. And he pointed out that at the baptism of Jesus He was present in person, the Holy Spirit appeared in the form of a dove and God was manifest in the approving voice. Other quotations of Scripture, some from Paul's writings, were given as establishing beyond cavil the existence of the trinity.

In the evening the Christian Endeavorers had full charge of the services and they provided a fine program. Opening at 7:30, they had the usual Endeavor study of the topic and then after a beautiful hymn by Mrs. Cleo Stoler and Homer Miller, Jesse Fisher, who served with the 411th Telephone Battalion was introduced and he held the rapt attention of the large audience to the close. He first showed in tapestry pictures just where the American headquarters in Paris were and told how "Big Ber" (Continued on Page 4)

FOUR ARNETT BOYS RETURNED

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Arnett are happy in the return of two more of the five sons who went from their home into the service of Uncle Sam. Lieut. Richard Arnett got home from France about the 15th, and Harold Arnett, who was in the navy and who has been at New Orleans since his discharge, got home Friday. All are now in Southern California, except the oldest son, Lieut. Claude, who, they expect, is on the way home. Harold is here for a visit, and plans to return to New Orleans. He and his brothers, Wilson and Richard, will resume college courses.

A REAL AUTOMOBILE BARGAIN

At this time of sky-high priced automobiles there is an opportunity to get a real bargain in an eight-cylinder Oakland seven-passenger car. The car is equipped with new tires, new top and is otherwise in excellent condition. The owner, T. F. Higgins, of 1101 East Wilson Ave., is planning a trip to Europe in the near future and will be absent a year or more, therefore he is willing to sell this car which he so highly prizes at a sacrifice to make a quick sale. The price is $1100. Mr. Higgins will be pleased to demonstrate the workings of this car at any time. It is a bargain and the sale must be made quick. Remember the place, 1101 East Wilson avenue.

LEGRANDS MOVING TO L. A.

Mrs. Laura B. LeGrand has sold her home at 342 West Wilson avenue and her meat market in the rear of the Glendale Groceries to Thomas White of Hollywood, who will occupy the former and give his personal attention to the market. Mr. and Mrs. LeGrand and her son, Ed W. Kinser, will occupy their new home at 650 St. Paul Ave., Los Angeles. Henry will still retain his position with the P. E., going back and forth each day.

"WHITE INN" TO OPEN WEDNESDAY EVENING

Mrs. Jack Thomas announces an enterprise that will meet the approval of many residents, particularly business men of the eastern section of the city. This is the opening of the White Inn, at 637 East Broadway, corner of Glendale avenue, where the Jewel City Cafe was formerly located. Mrs. Thomas will have two specialties—a business man's lunch at noon and a table d'hôte dinner at 6 p. m. She is an experienced caterer and will make of the White Inn a most desirable place, with real home cooking, such as the tired business man can partake of with the old-time relish of boyhood days.

CHARLES E. HUGHES SUPPORTS LEAGUE

PROPOSES CERTAIN RESERVATIONS AND INTERPRETATIONS WHICH HE BELIEVES WILL NOT DISRUPT IT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Answering the letter of Senator Hale of Maine, Charles Evans Hughes has declared in favor of the league of nations with certain reservations and interpretations.

He suggested the following interpretations:

Any nation can withdraw after two years' notice provided the withdrawal does not release it from debts and liabilities.

Questions of tariffs and immigration should be left outside the league's jurisdiction.

The United States under Article 21 regarding the Monroe doctrine should not relinquish its traditional attitude toward purely American questions under which it would prevent non-American powers from acquiring and controlling territory in the Western hemisphere.

The United States should not be obliged to use the army or navy in any expedition that Congress does not authorize.

Hughes declared that the need of the league is plain and that peace should not be delayed. He expressed the belief that his suggested reservations would not disrupt the league.

BANDITS RETURN KIDNAPPED BOY

BY ADVICE OF MEXICAN GOVERNMENT PARENTS PAY RANSOM OF 1500 PESOS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Philip Thomson, the American boy whom Mexican bandits kidnapped last week, has been returned to his parents on the payment of a ransom of 1500 pesos. The Mexican government advised the payment of the ransom.

SENATE AGAIN DISCUSSES LEAGUE TREATY

IRISH FREEDOM, SHANTUNG AGREEMENT AND ARTICLE TEN THE SUBJECTS OF DEBATE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The Senate, while expecting the White House to make the next important move in the league of nations contest, today resumed the debate with Walsh of Montana discussing Irish freedom, the Shantung agreement, and Article 10 of the covenant. The foreign relations committee expected to finish the reading of the treaty tonight.

Senators Thomas of Colorado, Smith of Arizona and several others saw the president this morning. Smith denied that they discussed the league of nations but did not reveal what they did discuss.

ONE YEAR SENTENCE FOR MURDER

GLADYS C. DUNN PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER OF SON AND IS SENT TO HOUSE OF CORRECTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PITTSFIELD, Mass., July 28.—Mrs. Gladys C. Dunn, wife of Allen C. Dunn, the California author, today plead guilty to murdering their 3-year-old son and was sentenced to one year in the House of Correction.

SENATE TO INVESTIGATE OIL PRICES

POINDEXTER OFFERS RESOLUTION DECLARING PRICE ON PACIFIC IS $1.85 AGAINST 80C IN NEW ORLEANS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Poindexter of Washington today introduced in the Senate a resolution directing the Federal Trade Commission to investigate Pacific Coast oil companies. The investigation is to cover both producing and marketing, with particular emphasis on fuel oil. Poindexter charged that oil sells on this coast for $1.85 per barrel and in New Orleans for only 80 cents. He declared that consumers have filed with him charges that the Standard Oil sets the prices for the California oil and there is no competition. He also declared that the Standard Oil has paid 165 per cent dividends during the past three years and that last year's profits amounted to $44,000,000 with indications that they will be larger this year.

The resolution asked that particular attention be paid to the Standard Oil, the Union Oil, and the general petroleum companies. The Federal Trade Commission was directed to report back to the Senate "what, if any combinations in restraint of trade or unfair combinations in restraint of trade or unfair combination have existed or do exist," and what effect they have had on fuel oil, and gasoline or petroleum product prices.

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—Representatives of oil companies here today denied there was anything irregular about their business as charged by Senator Poindexter, and added: "It is possibly a legitimate subject for investigation if any one wants to investigate." They attributed the low prices in New Orleans to the proximity of the Texas, Oklahoma and Tampico fields.

LEE FAMILY AT HOME

DRIVE 1200 MILES AND VISIT YOSEMITE AND BIG BEAR AND POINTS BETWEEN

Ed M. Lee, the banker, Mrs. Lee and their sons, Kenneth and Wilbur, got home Sunday night from an auto and camping tour of nearly six weeks' duration in which they visited the Yosemite where they spent eleven most enjoyable days. Driving south from there they visited Grant Lake and Rush River where they camped and fished with great success and enjoyment barring the mosquitoes. From this point they drove to Big Bear where they also had a delightful time. All the party benefited by the trip. Mr. Lee is described by one of his friends as "brown as an Indian with an appetite to match." He has returned to his duties in the First National and is in much better health than when he left. Mrs. Lee and the boys are also feeling very fit. Their speedometer registered about 1200 miles for the trip.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS

The recent bond election made evident the fact that a great many electors in Glendale should register to be eligible as voters because so many have changed their residence from one precinct to another. The law prescribes residence in the precinct for thirty days before voting. Voters can register with Mrs. Myton at the branch postoffice at Glendale and Broadway in the real estate office of Spencer Robinson, or can be registered by Mrs. Bott at the Glendale Book Store on Brand boulevard. This is very important as more elections will be taking place this fall and winter. Any person who is not sure of registration should re-register. There is no cost attached.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE

J. T. BEACH AND ARDES HEISLER WED AT PINE CREST IN SAN BERNARDINO MOUNTAINS

Friends of J. T. Beach, nephew of A. W. Beach, and of Miss Ardes Heisler, daughter of Mrs. Frances Heisler, of 115 North Orange street, will not be altogether surprised to learn that their engagement of three years' standing has culminated in a romantic marriage which took place Friday at 4 p. m. in a picturesque cabin at Pine Crest in the San Bernardino Mountains. Rev. Weaver came up from Riverside to tie the knot, and there were present the bride's mother, Mrs. Heisler, and the members of the party who had been sharing the cabin with her and enjoying a two weeks' outing together, including Miss Katherine Harvycost, Miss Bessie Butler, and Mrs. Meyer of Los Angeles, and Miss Clara Snodgrass of Glendale. Also present was Mrs. Bayliss of Pine Crest Hotel.

Following the ceremony the party adjourned to the Pine Crest Hotel for a wedding supper and on leaving the dining room Mr. and Mrs. Beach were pelted with rice by the friendly guests. They are now spending a honeymoon there and will probably take a good many sight-seeing trips before returning to Glendale to receive the congratulations of their friends. The wedding merely anticipated the date they had set tentatively for their marriage about a month hence in August, but the ideal situation tempted them to hurry up the event.

Mrs. Beach was in service sixteen months as a member of the band of the 143d Field Artillery. About eight months of the period were spent in France. Had the armistice been delayed for a short time he and his comrades would have gone into action as they had been slated for service at the front. As it was, they had to content themselves with the sound of the big guns and the war surroundings. He was discharged last November and is now connected with the haberdashery of Jacob Dreyfuss of 645 South Spring street, Los Angeles. He was graduated from Glendale High in 1917 and, like his bride, who was graduated in 1918, was exceedingly popular with his schoolmates.

Mrs. Beach has been a great social favorite and is one of a group of girls who were much together during the war period and who were known as the "fourteens," because made up of fourteen school chums. Both have a big circle of friends who will be glad of an opportunity to extend their good wishes.

Major J. J. Weiler and his friend, Comrade Henry Banta of Fresno, who joined him Sunday evening, go today to Huntington Park for the G. A. R. Encampment.

WONDERS OF WIRELESS

TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONE CONVERSATIONS HEARD OVER WIDE DISTANCES

J. A. Killgore of 507 Vine street, recently received a letter from his son, Jason, who is chief wireless operator on the "City of Para," a big freight and passenger steamer plying between San Francisco and the Panama canal, making trips every two months, stopping at many ports on the way. The "City of Para" has a very powerful wireless plant and Jason writes he has picked up messages proceeding from stations 8000 miles distant. He has heard Berlin talking more than once. He has picked up also telephone conversations between ships on the Atlantic side fully 200 miles distant, every word coming to him very distinct. One of the big fruit companies on that side of the canal has equipped all its boats with wireless telephone as well as telegraph outfits and the talks between ships far out at sea and the business offices located in the cities inland or on the coast are quite interesting. A wireless operator can thus gather in news of nearly the whole world while attending to his duties aboard his own ship.

PROFITABLE APRICOT TREE

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Griffin on Acacia avenue have an apricot tree about twenty years old which is a valuable adjunct to their garden. It is 25 feet high and the circumference of the trunk about 42 inches. Mrs. Griffin has canned and given away a large amount of fruit and besides has sold twenty-four boxes at $1 a box.

MRS. PURNELL SELLS HOME

Mrs. Louise Purnell sold her place at 337 Riverdale Drive, Saturday, through the Burton & Chandler agency. The purchaser was Mrs. Flora Armstrong of Los Angeles, who was a school teacher for many years. She and her invalid husband, and their grown son and daughter will occupy the place. They have been residents of Los Angeles for a number of years but preferred the pure air of Glendale so bought this beautiful home as a permanent residence. Mrs. Purnell had but recently repainted the house and put the grounds in beautiful order. She will give possession August 23d and move to her place on Ivy street, No. 353, now occupied by J. A. Legge and wife.

MALLORYS TO RETURN TO SANTA MARIA

J. F. Mallory has sold his place at 520 West Broadway to Mrs. Anna Gunnerson, of St. Cloud, Minn., who, with her brother and mother, will live there raising chickens and goats. There are two and one-half acres in the place and it is well adapted for this purpose. Mr. Mallory expects to move his family back to Santa Maria, their former home, and work again as a building contractor. Mrs. Gunnerson's step-brother, Mr. Rudie, bought the Wm. Woods place of five acres adjoining the Mallory place on the west and with his wife and two children has already moved in. This family also came from McCloud, Minn.

DO YOU KNOW HER?

YOU WILL WANT TO, BUT THERE IS ONE CONDITION

That mysterious girl in the black mask is attracting crowds of wondering people, particularly impressionable young men. She makes one direct statement to every young man seeking to talk to her: "I am looking for a husband but he must use a Durham Duplex Razor." Though the black domino effectually conceals her charming features enough can be seen to show that they are of rare beauty and more than one young man has felt his heart go pit-a-pat as he caught barely a glimpse of a damask cheek and rounded, dimpled chin. And where is this wondrous sight to be seen? Why, at Roberts & Echols' Pharmacy, where there are so many attractions of varied kinds. The fair charmer uses her sweet voice most effectively as her bright eyes send wooing glances into those of her many male admirers. Young ladies of Glendale, look closely after your best fellows while this mysterious charmer in the black domino is in our midst. She certainly knows how to demonstrate the wonderful hair cutting as well as shaving qualities of the Duplex Razor, and her fair hands wield it as to the manner born.

TREASURERS SALVAGED FROM DEPTHS OF SEA

The sea is full of queer things and queer tricks. At Thorpness, for instance, recently the sea revealed treasure that had been hidden for hundreds of years. As the time ebbed the sands were found to be littered with hundreds of coins—gold, silver and bronze—dating from early Saxon times. There were also antique bronze rings and ornaments that will fetch many pounds to their fortunate finders from collectors. At the inquest—which, by the way, is invariably held on such treasure trove—it was decided that the find was not crown property.

Everyone knows the story of how King John's treasure was overwhelmed in the Wash. Confirmation of this was given a few years ago when a solid gold circlet was cast up by the sea at Wolferton. Before Cromer became a pleasant holiday resort its place was taken by the old town of Shipden, which now lies beneath the waves. These waves brought from Shipden on to the sands of Cromer hundreds of gold nobles and silver pennies, most of which were bought up by the antiquarians, who had immediately rushed to Cromer on hearing of the discovery.

A boy was playing along the rocky coast of North Wales, a short time ago, and trying to lift many of the loose rocks, saw a sparkling object lying underneath one of them. On being fished up this proved to be a valuable gold ring. When inquiries were made it was found that it belonged to an old resident of the district who had lost it in the sea more than thirty years ago when bathing.

A totally different kind of prize fell into a fisherman's hands on this same Welsh coast a few years ago. He was walking along the shore near Pwllheli, when he noticed a sealed bottle that had been cast up by the tide. On being opened it was found to contain the MS of a piece of music. There was not the slightest clew to the identity of the composer, nor the place from which the bottle was dispatched. The air was played over by a local musician, who afterward took it to a music publisher. Eventually, set to the words of a famous Welsh hymn, it became known throughout the principality as "The Tune of the Bottle."

About seventy miles off the coast of Southern California lies the Island of San Nicholas, a horrible spot, all sand and loose pumice stone. No one had landed there for years, and it was always believed that it was uninhabited and uninhabitable. Imagine, therefore, the surprise of those who knew this wild and desolate spot to learn, seven or eight years ago, that one man had resided there for some years.

He had been steadily collecting the treasure cast up by the sea from the many wrecks along the coast. He, perhaps, had more reason to think the sea a valuable storehouse than most people, for when he returned to civilization he brought back with him in gold and silver, both coins and bars, upwards of $180,000, all picked up on the beach. Moreover, he had a fine collection of antiques which brought him a small fortune.—Philadelphia Enquirer.

VALUE OF STATE UNIVERSITY AGRICULTURE SHORT COURSES

Thousands of farmers throughout the state who have attended the agricultural short courses held yearly during the months of September, October, November and December at the University of California Farm, Davis, are said to have testified to their direct and practical value, according to Dean Thomas Forsyth Hunt of the College of Agriculture of the State University.

Beginning farmers, especially, are declared to have learned many principles essential to successful agriculture in the various short courses on general agriculture, animal husbandry, poultry husbandry, dairy manufacturers, butter and cheese making, bee keeping, growing of deciduous fruits, and operation of gas tractors. Husbandry courses are scheduled to begin September 29.

Free copies of this year's program of courses, daily schedule of lectures and demonstrations are available at the University Farm, Davis, or the College of Agriculture, Berkeley.

DUTCH GOVERNMENT AND RIGHTS OF ASYLUM

No allied tribunal in London can try William Hohenzollern, former emperor of Germany, for high crimes and misdemeanors unless he is first surrendered by the Dutch government, and there will be strong opposition in Holland to such action. This antagonism will not necessarily spring from a tender regard for the exiled kaiser or from sympathy with Germany, but from a traditional respect for the right of asylum, whether the refugee be a deposed emperor or a harassed revolutionist.

This feeling cannot be dismissed lightly. The right of asylum has been a great safeguard of human liberty in the past and is not to be thrown aside carelessly, however desirable it may be to bring William Hohenzollern to the bar of justice.

The happiest solution of the problem would be for the last of the German emperors to give himself up voluntarily and demand the opportunity to confront his accusers and make his defense. If he is innocent, as he stoutly claims, his trial would inevitably be a moral vindication whatever the verdict of the court might be. But a refugee kaiser can never be a heroic object. When he ran away from Germany the blame was fixed upon his advisers. In Holland he has had plenty of time to make up his mind for himself and decide whether there is any advantage in hiding from his enemies.

There have been Hohenzollerns who would not hesitate a moment in meeting the issue, however, great as they might regard the odds against them.—New York World.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ROME, July 28.—Popolo Romano today announced that the Italian ambassador to the United States would be recalled soon.

NOTICE!

Copies of the following Notice have been distributed throughout the City to all water consumers on the City's water systems south of Verdugo Wash, the systems North of the Verdugo Wash not being affected.

It might be well to say that upon authority of Dr. R. E. Chase, City Health Officer, and Dr. C. H. Griffin, who has been assisting Dr. Chase in this matter, the water during this period may be used for cooking and other domestic purposes as well as for the watering of stock and chickens.

We desire also to call the attention of the public to the fact that fresh water, WITHOUT CHEMICALS, will be furnished during said period to and any other business institutions using large amounts of water.

During such period there will be water for Fire protection purposes AT ALL TIMES.

T. W. WATSON, City Manager.

NOTICE

To All Those Using Water from the Glendale Distributing Systems

Owing to the presence during the last few weeks of a large amount of vegetable matter and pipe moss in the pipe system it has been determined necessary by the health authorities to treat the water supply chemically for a period of four days, followed by a complete draining of the systems. While this is being done it is imperative that water users strictly observe the following:

1. Beginning Friday, July 25th at 9 a. m. and continuing until Wednesday, July 30, 9 a. m., all water users will refrain from drawing water for drinking purposes. A strict compliance with this measure will be necessary on account of the presence of chemicals in the water during such period. Such chemicals, although not poisonous, will render the water unpleasant for drinking purposes. An ample supply of drinking water should be drawn to carry over this period. Water may be used for all domestic purposes except drinking.

2. During the period mentioned above, sprinkling and irrigating may be done, as usual

3. Beginning Tuesday morning, July 29, at 9 o'clock, and continuing until Wednesday morning, July 30th at 9 o'clock, no water must be drawn from the system except for sanitary purposes. All irrigation and sprinkling must cease during such period in order that the reservoirs and pipe systems may be refilled with fresh water.

The above measures are deemed necessary in order to thoroughly cleanse the distributing systems.

Your co-operation in this matter is necessary and will be appreciated.

R. E. CHASE, M. D., Health Officer.
T. W. WATSON, City Manager.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

A missionary convention was held in the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, corner Isabel and Wilson, there being two sessions on Saturday and one on Sunday. Elder V. H. Lucas of Pasadena, who has oversight of the home missionary work of the Southern California Conference, acted as chairman. Elder C. S. Prout, recently appointed secretary for the young people's work in the conference, gave the Sabbath morning missionary sermons. In the afternoon session there were talks on different phases of the work by Dr. D. D. Comstock, Miss Sandberg of Pasadena and Miss Jennie Ireland of Los Angeles, supplemented by short speeches by others present.

Special music interspersed the program, furnished by the Glendale male quartette, the Pasadena ladies' quartette and others.

The subject of the sermon given by Elder Prout was "Love." He showed that the Christian's actuating motive in working for others is the love of Christ. This is not a human affection such as one feels toward a relative, but divine love which will bear all things, sacrifice all to help another, even as Christ gave up all for us.

To be an acceptable worker for Christ, one must be conscientious and true to principle in every phase of life; in business, at home and in every association. "Be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord."
If the love of Christ is in the heart the very countenance will tell it. The Holy Spirit is given to enable one to labor for this gift. "The Holy Spirit gives power and efficiency."
The test of devotion is the measure of one's service for others. "If ye love me, feed my sheep," Christ said. Selfishness will have no part in the spirit-filled life.

CARNATION LODGE NOTICE

The regular installation of officers of Carnation Rebekah Lodge will be held Tuesday evening, July 29th, at 8 o'clock, at Odd Fellows' Hall. All members are earnestly requested to be present, and visiting sisters are welcome.

PHILANTHROPIC COMMITTEE WORK

The Philanthropy Committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of which Mrs. Oliver O. Clark has been chairman for some time, has met several times this summer to can and otherwise preserve fruit which has been donated to the ladies to be dispensed among the needy next winter. Mrs. Clark reports that to date 48 quarts of apricots have been canned and that 13 pints of jam have been made, which is an excellent start. She is hoping to receive liberal donations of peaches a little later in the season.

David Young and wife of 301 Boyle avenue, Los Angeles, were in Glendale Sunday, visiting old friends.

WILLISFORDS TAKING VACATION

Dr. E. H. Willisford and family left today for a month's vacation. They are located at 135 Hill street, Ocean Park. They have secured a very suitable apartment, a half block from the ocean and a half block from the carline. This location is very quiet and restful. If it gets too quiet the "dominie" says it is only two minutes' walk to where the band plays and other attractions. During the absence of the Willisfords their home will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Sturdevant and A. B. Bevans. The Sturdevants formerly lived in Glendale and were connected with the Glendale Sanitarium.

During the absence of the pastor there will be no evening services in the Congregational Church, but speakers have been engaged for the morning services as follows: August 3d, Rev. E. E. Smith, of Pasadena; August 10th, R. M. Lawrence, of Los Angeles; August 17th, Rev. E. W. Ellis, Missionary to China; August 24th, Frank E. Knopf of Eagle Rock; August 31st, Dr. George E. Kenngott, of Los Angeles.

WANTS INDEPENDENCE OF LOS ANGELES

Editor Glendale Evening News:

Having been unable to attend the Anti-Annexation Meetings, I submit the following experience of myself and wife before locating in Glendale, a year ago:

When we decided to leave Burbank, we looked at residences in Alhambra and Glendale, as they both are independent little municipalities, composed of a good class of people.

When some of our friends and acquaintances, owners of residences in Los Angeles, heard of our intention of purchasing another home, they offered us some tempting bargains, and so did the real estate brokers with whom we talked, and reading between the lines of their conversation, we soon discovered that residence property in Los Angeles was a poor paying investment, and investigation of taxes, and various costs of keeping up a home in Los Angeles, convinced us it was not the place where we cared to locate. Also, the experiences I have had in fitting up business places in that city to comply with all the red tape city ordinances, many of them enacted at the bidding of labor unions, benefiting the few at the expense of the masses, made us choose Glendale and we are much pleased with our choice.

On three occasions we have had prospective buyers stop and make offers at a good advance on the price we paid, besides many inquiries as to whether we would rent, which shows the demand for homes in Glendale. We certainly are both much

LOCAL THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS

At the Palace Grand last Saturday afternoon and evening Basil King's great story "The City of Comrades," which ran as a serial in the Saturday Evening Post, recently, was produced on the screen before large and appreciative audiences. Many of the spectators having read the novel when it appeared they were the most interested in viewing it as a picture. This afternoon and tonight Kittie Gordon will hold the center of the stage in the film dramatization of Anthony McGuire's great story "Playthings of Passion." Its variety of setting and strong dramatic climaxes, make it a great production apart from the artistic work of Kittie Gordon and her support. There will also be a Christie Comedy, "You Couldn't Blame Her." Tuesday afternoon and evening there will be a Harold Lloyd Comedy, "Ask Father," the big picture being "The Woman Who Gave," with Evelyn Nesbit in the leading part.

tha," the German gun with a 70-mile range, was aimed at this building constantly, through information sent out by German spies located in Paris. The first shot fired struck three miles from this objective and the last one within a few hundred yards. He told of his enlistment and six months' training in camps on this side, then of the trip across, dodging submarines, the landing in Brest and immediate employment in putting up new telephone lines and repairing old ones. Then a long jump was made to Noyon and later to St. Mihiel. This drive was described briefly as he saw it. The Argonne-Meuse sector next was the scene of their activities. He told of the failure of the first offensive there and how the men of his company went forward to the very front, four in a group, unrolling insulated wire from a large spool as they proceeded and carrying a telephone instrument with them. The success of the second offensive with its awful casualties was set forth with admirable directness. Then came the armistice and finally the homeward journey. Two thrilling descriptions were of the "million dollar barrage," the most awful bombardment in the world's history, when for one solid hour every gun on the American front poured forth shot and shell on the German strongholds; and the spectacular flight over the American lines of 350 airplanes, all of American make and manned by American pilots.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

By John McCrae
In Flanders fields the poppies grow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place, and in the sky,
The larks, still bravely singing, fly,
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead; short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you from falling hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high!

If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

AGAIN—"IN FLANDERS FIELDS"

By E. Edith Soper
"In Flanders Fields the poppies grow
Brave hearts are resting just below;
The 'hands that held the torch on high'"
Flaunt Glory's torch athwart the sky,
And high above "the lark's brave song"
Their shouts of triumph roll along
For others, heedless of Death's cup,
Their "quarrel with the foe took up."
They smote those demons hip and thigh
Proud in so righteous cause to die.
Lo! All the vaults of heaven ring
As those immortal heroes sing.

Although our mothers, sweethearts, wives,
On earth bewail our sundered lives,
They yet shall cry "Thy will be done!"
And take their places in the sun.
Across the realms of War's black night
The Angel Peace shall wing her flight,
Love, builder of the Universe,
Shall exorcise War's baneful curse,
And we who knew War's hell-born pain
Know that we have not died in vain.
Sleep on dear "dead in Flanders Fields"
Fame has emblazoned all your shields,
And while this good earth wheels through space
No power your glory shall efface.

another thing—the solidarity of the human race.

"The Chinese have a proverb: 'All the crows in the world are black' and by that they mean that human nature is alike the world over. When I first went over there the things that interested me were the unusual things, the language, for instance, which is so difficult to learn; but as the days, months and years went by I became much more interested in the things in which they are like us." She then referred to small examples as, for instance, their use of yeast in making bread, and their primitive looms so like the one her grandmother used. Continuing, she said: "I want to make these people seem real to you. I do not want you to think of them as a people way off on the other side of the globe who know nothing about culture and refinement and nothing about the struggles we have."

"One of the things I have learned is to pray the prayer 'Our Father who art in Heaven' in a way I never prayed it before. We cannot say 'Our Father' and mean just ourselves. Does 'our Father' mean to you simply Americans, or your own family? You are broader than that, and God's plan is the plan of the world."

"The next lesson was the essentials and the non-essentials—what are the essentials of life?" She then told of the things that offend the sight, hearing and noses of foreigners in China, particularly the smells, "but," said she, "you find out you can ignore these things, you can love your work so much that you can put the essential things ahead. We get over saying 'That gets on my nerves' or 'That makes me crazy' because if we let things 'make us crazy' we are losing out on the work we went there to do."

"I found there was one thing that counted above everything else,—not learning to read, not joining the church, but a change of heart, and it is the same thing here."

"A lot of the people have done things that remind me of that chapter in the first of Revelations that tells of the 'overcomers.'" She then gave instances of sacrifice and of spiritual triumph which were touching, telling of the woman of 74 who walked 50 miles to attend a special service, of the woman who learned to read in the face of incredible obstacles, of the man who had lived a life of beggary and then came into a life of comfort through the business success of a son and who submitted without a murmur when the son was taken from him by death."

She quoted the characterization of some American woman who said that the average Chinaman looks as though his face had been carved out of a turnip, so expressionless is it, but after the joy of the gospel had entered in, his face is like a fine porcelain vase in which a candle has been placed. "I can only think," said she, "of the Bible verse: 'I looked upon him' and was radiant' for their faces do become radiant with the joy that is in them. They learn to put Jesus between them and their weaknesses and sins. You know there is another verse, too: 'Then thou shalt see and be radiant and thy heart shall thrill and be enlarged;' and that has been true in the lives of the Chinese. They have been overcomers. They have seen the Lord Jesus Christ, they have become thrilled and their vision has been enlarged."

Mrs. Ellis has a very winning personality, she is full of her subject and had the intense interest of her audience. Her husband will be the speaker at the morning service August 17th.

REDUCE STUDY OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES IN UNITED STATES

One of the strongest arguments for study of foreign languages, especially German, has been that a knowledge of these languages was necessary for anyone who desired to keep in touch with scientific development and modern research work. Practically every American university has required of its candidates for the doctor's degree a reading knowledge of French and German. And schools and colleges all down the line have accepted this requirement as a general principle.

Now this requirement is brought into question. The late Prof. Joseph Barrell of Yale university, in a recent number of the Scientific Monthly, discusses the place of modern languages in research and advocates that the requirement be "a reading knowledge of two modern languages other than English." The university of Chicago has already made this change.

Professor Barrell, who has died since his article was written, does not find that knowledge of German is more desirable than a knowledge of several other foreign languages, Spanish and Italian, for example. While the Germans had a large part in research work prior to the war, it is highly probable that the prestige of the Teutonic nations will be greatly lowered in the period at hand. So there will be less necessity for a knowledge of German than ever before.

But this is not the most significant fact in sight so far as the entire subject of foreign language study in America is concerned. Professor Barrell has pointed out a way by which advanced students need give little time to the study of any foreign language.

From the standpoint of national interest it would be eminently appropriate and wise for congress to provide that the United States, the wealthiest of the English-speaking nations, should publish under its auspices digests in English of the scientific literature of the world. Nothing else would so soon shake us free from the insidious scientific control of Germany.

The plan would be to enlarge simply upon the lists and classifications of titles already given by the International Scientific Catalogue. The translations might range from a single sentence in the case of slightly important articles to complete translation where exceptional value seemed to warrant.

It is clear that the fostering of a true spirit of Americanism, without the consequent loss of anything desirable or necessary in the form of internationalism, would result from this proposed move. Also, the saving of time and effort on the part of American students would be immense.—Kansas City Star.
